POLITICS IN ROANOKE.

INTEREST IN THE PRIMARY WHICH TAKES PLACE WEDNESDAY.

suicidal Manta with the Varilla Family Several Have Attempted Self. Destruction but Were Prevented.

ROANOKE, VA., April 14.-Special .-The Democratic cauldron in each ward of this city is boiling hot. Meetings are held every night, at which many candidates speak and increase the enthusiasm of voters. At present the interest eentres in the primary next Wednesday to nominate candidates, To-night the Republicans held ward meetings and seected delegates to a convention to nominate a full municipal ticket. When this is done a party fight will be waged for city officers, the first time since 1287.

The Varilla family, all musicians, are victims, apparently, of suicidal mania. John B., the head, sought solace for temrary desertion of his wife in a bottle laudanum. Next a married daughter attempted the same thing because her father prevented her from taking her mother's clothes away, and last the threemonths' bride of Joe Varilla got tired of life. Stomach pumps, emetics, the per-suasive eloquence of Chief of Police Dyer and various other remedies were em-ployed successfully to save the trio, and the harp, violin and flute will again be heard here.

Last Tuesday a colored man named Morton, in Caroline county, threatened to whip his son. The boy, who is about eight years old, fled to the woods, and was followed by the father. When Morton returned, he was alone. The boy has not since been seen alive. On Thursday a colored woman found the dead body of the hoy. A pury of inquest was sumof the boy. A jury of inquest was summoned, and the testimony all goes to show that a murder has been committed, as wounds were discovered on the body. The jury rendered a verdict placing the crime on the father. Morion has been arrested, and is now in jal.

There is a striking coincidence between the death of General Slocum and that of David Dudley Field, both having been beloved by their fellow citizens, and both succumbing within a day of each other to an attack of pneumonia, contracted just after returning from travel. General Slocum had been on an extended tour in the West, and like the distinguished jurist who passed away yesterday, he came home just in time to die.

GENERAL SLOCUM'S LIFE AND CAREER.

General slocum's LIFE and careers.

General Henry Warner Slocum was born at Delphi, Onondaga county, N. Y.,

September 24, 1827. He was graduated at the United States Military Academy in 1852, appointed second lieutenant in the first artillery and ordered to Florida the same year. He was promoted first lieutenant in 1855, but resigned in October, 1856, and, returning to New York, engaged in the practice of law at Syracus gaged in the practice of law at Syracuse, and was a member of the Legislature in and was a member of the Legislature in 1859. At the opening of the civil war he tendered his services, and on May 21, 1861, was appointed colonel of the twenty-seventh New York volunteers. He commanded this regiment at the battle of Bull Run on July 21, where he was severely wounded. On August 5th he was commissioned Brigadier-General of volunteers, and was assigned to the command of the brigade of General William B. Franklin's division of the Army of the Potomac.

the Potomac.

In the Virginia peninsula campaign of 1862, he was engaged in the seige of Yorktown, and the action at West Point, Va., and succeeded to the command of the division on May 15th, on Franklin's assignment to the Sixth corps.

At the battle of Gaines' Mill, June 27th, he was sent with his division to reinforce General Fitz-John Porter, who was then severely pressed by the enemy, and renewards pressed by the enemy and renewards pressed by the enemy and renewards pressed to the command of the division of Having been transferred with his corps to the West, he served in the department of the Cumberland until April, 1884, when, his corps being consolidated with the Eleventh, he was assigned to a division and the command of the district of Vicksburg. In August, 1884, he succeeded General Joseph Hooker in the command of the Twentieth corps, which was the first body of troops to occury Atlanta.

In Sherman's march to the sea and invasion of the Carolinas he held command of the left wing of the army, and participated in all its engagements, from the departure from Atlanta to the surrender of General Joseph E. Johnston, at Durham Station, N. C. In September, 1835, General Slocum resigned from the army and resumed the practice of law at Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1865 he declined the appointment of a colonel of infantry in the regular army. In 1865 he was the unsuccessful candidate of the Democrats for Secretary of State for New York, and in regular army. In 1885 he was successful candidate of the Democrats for Secretary of, State for New York, and in 1808 he was chosen a presidential elector, and he was elected to Congress the same year, and re-elected in 1870. MR. HOWARD M. CLARE.

A telegram received in this city Friday night by Mrs. Legh R. Page announced the death of Mr. Howard M. Clark, of Hartford, Conn. He died after a few days' liness of acute pneumonia. This intelligence is peculiarly sad, Mr. Clark was to have been married next month to Miss Mary Lee Page. He was the picture of health. The shock comes with peculiar force upon a household which has been sorely stricken within the past few months. Miss Mary Page and Mr. Legh R. Page, Jr., left Friday night for Hartford.

JOSEPHINE PLY. The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. Richard T. Ely and Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Crenshaw will earnestly sympathize with them in the death of little Josephine Ely, the youngest child and only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ely. A child of unusual beauty and promise, like a frail spring blossom she drooped after only a few days of illness. Mrs. Ely arrived in the city only a week ago, and this sad ending to a happily anticipated visit is deeply deplored by her host of friends. Dr. Ely is expected to arrive in the city this afternoon.

CHICAGO. CHICAGO, ILL., April 14.—The news on wheat to-day was all more or less calculated to cause disappointment to holders. The most depressing feature of the market, however, was the large amount of long wheat that was for sale at the opening. Nobody appeared to want it, and even at a decline of $45 the form Friday's close it was difficult want it, and even at a decline of 166 114c. from Friday's close it was difficult to dispose of. A further drop of %c. was made before any registance worth speaking of was met with. Some large commission houses became buyers about this time, and thereafter a steadier to firm feeling ruled, May reacting to 604c, where it closed with a net loss of 4c. for the day.

pared with last year is what the bulls and bears are now most concerned about. Stocks at thirty-one leading points reported by the Chronicle weekly were 218,000 bales last night, against 333,000 bales last night, against 333,000 bales last year, of which a considerable portion will be needed by southern mills, and of which a good deal has osen sold or awaiting shipment. What may come into slight at the interior, the overland movement, and southern consumption from now until September 1st is also a matter of very decided interest in enabling longs and shorts to determine the near or distant course of prices. If we carry over on September 1st next as much as on September ist next as much as or distant course of prices. If we carry over on September ist next as much as on September lst last of it shows that out of the present port stocks, and what is to be added to it during the next four and a half months, a very considerable portion of it cannot be sent away from our shores.
